SCHOOL REPORT

To the School Committee and Citizens of Falmouth:—

In accordance with your custom, the following report is respectfully submitted:

TEACHERS.

At the present time twelve teachers are employed. There have been some changes in our corps of teachers in the year just past. Miss Annette W. Libby was transferred from No. 7 to No. 10. Mr. D. W. Lunt was chosen teacher at No. 7. Miss Lottie M. Morrison was transferred from No. 10 to No. 6. Miss Evelyn Kahrs resigned at close of the spring term. Mr. Malcolm Winslow also resigned at close of the spring term. Miss Edith H. Huston was selected for No. 4. Marion Hamilton was chosen assistant at No. 3. Miss Augusta Newbegin resigned at the close of the fall term and Miss Sadie Larrabee was chosen at No. 12.

The average salary of teachers of Falmouth is $7.97 per week. Our teachers, taken collectively, are deserving of great credit. They are well educated whether taken from a professional or literary standpoint. The teaching force is one of the most valuable parts of the school system and it behooves the town's people to give these teachers not only intelligent criticism, but hearty support. That teachers like everyone else make mistakes, no one denies, but as a body I believe the teachers of Falmouth are rendering excellent service.

Teachers are urged to visit the pupils in their homes. Parents and citizens are earnestly requested to visit the schools.

WRITING.

It is safe to say that the child of to-day writes ten times as much as the child of the olden time. Not so much attention is paid to ornamentation as formerly. The children are trained to write a simple legible hand, with a fair rate of speed. While the vertical system is very legible it is actually a system of printing and therefore slower to write than a system with some slant. It was thought advisable by the committee at the beginning of the school year, to change the system of writing in use in our schools from the vertical to the medial slant. The medial is believed to increase the rapidity of the handwriting of the children without interfering with the essential qualities of legibility. The medial is a system constructed on a slant half-way between the vertical and the Spencerian systems. It is generally being used throughout the country. The pupils found but little difficulty in making the change from vertical to medial slant.

DISCIPLINE.

The foundation of a school as of society, is law and order. I have found that most pupils really prefer order to disorder, firmness to weakness, law to lawlessness. There have been but very few cases of corporal punishment during my connection with your schools. One of the main objects of the teacher should be to lead the pupils to do right from a sense of duty and self-respect rather than from fear of punishment. When everything else fails apply the rod is the instruction given your teachers.

ATTENDANCE.

The school at No. 10 was closed the last of the fall term owing to epidemic of scarlet fever in that section and at this writing the school is still in session, the winter term being twelve weeks to make up for time lost in the fall. Owing to the severity of the winter, measles and local colds the attendance has not been as good as desired. No. 3 was closed four weeks on account of the measles and at this writing is in session. There have been many cases of tardiness in some of the schools. If parents and pupils would consider the true significance of habitual tardiness there would be fewer tardy marks on our registers. Punctuality is one of the mechanical virtues, valuable in itself because of its influence upon the character of the individual himself. The habit of being tardy is a slovenly one and is followed by inaccurate thinking. For the sake of the individual, to say nothing of the harm done to others, punctual attendance should be insisted upon by parents as well as teachers. The schools at No. 1 and No. 2 were given an additional work by the teachers without pay, for time lost during the winter and fall.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Nearly all of the buildings are in first class condition. There has been a marked improvement in the conditions of the out-buildings although we have not yet reached perfection. The ceiling in No. 1 needs attention. The blackboards in No. 1, No. 10 and No. 12 have been re-stained and put into excellent condition. I believe it should be the policy of the town to employ a (pupil) janitor for each building. Teachers are unable to get to the building early enough to build the fire and have the room warm enough for comfort at the beginning of the session. Janitors are employed at some of the buildings.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Owing to the change in Geographies made during last year, it has been necessary to expend about $30.00 in order to have enough books to supply the needs of the pupils. This is the only expenditure for text books during my connections with the schools.

During the coming year we shall need to purchase grammars and readers as the supply is not equal to the demand. I believe we should purchase necessities and not luxuries in the matter of text books. Strict economy has been practised in the general school supplies, yet each school has been furnished with necessary supplies.

IN GENERAL.

We are at present paying at the rate of about $1,000 per year to other towns for tuition for pupils attending high schools. There are in round numbers forty students attending high schools. I believe we should be very careful not to recommend pupils for high school work before they are fitted for such work.

Our teachers are being impressed with the dignity and importance of this work. They are learning that the child is the most intricate, the most interesting and the most important problem in the world ; that education is the supreme concern of human life ; that teaching is the profoundest science, the highest art, the noblest profession ; and that it is possible for every school to do all that people of common sense expect of it provided the teachers know how to teach.

They are learning, too, that the teacher must make the most careful preparation for her work ; that the best teaching is by her character and example ; that as the teacher is the school is, as the school is the child is, as the child is the world will be. In reading we are choosing matter of value, either as information or as literature. As a rule, in lower grades pupils learn to read, and in higher grades they read to learn. We are trying to secure good expression, good tones and good enunciation. In arithmetic we are trying to omit the puzzles and to teach pupils to do problems occurring in every day life and to perform operations correctly and quickly. Clear explanations and good figures are insisted on, and diagrams are much used. Spelling is taught by written and oral methods. Special attention is given to the spelling in every written lesson. In geography teachers have been instructed to omit unimportant geographical features; to require original thinking as well as memorizing. In language and grammar the aim has been to secure correct expression of thought. Every lesson is made an exercise in the use of good English. Letter-writing, business and social forms, declamations, etc., are all included in the language work. American History is taught by the topic method, using a text-book, stories and by reading.

We are teaching physiology to some extent, and incidentally hygiene. The wise law of the State requiring that ten minutes of each week be devoted to instruction in regard to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics, is observed. A few minutes of each week is given to special exercises, consisting of reciting in concert quotations, drills in mental arithmetic, physical culture, local geography and local history. Each school has received from 3 to 5 visits per term. Under the old method of visiting schools during the first and last weeks it offers no opportunity of suggestion by the Superintendent or seeing that the suggestions are carried out. I believe that each school should be regarded as a separate business proposition. The supervision of schools is as much a profession as law, medicine or the ministry. Every nook and corner of this broad land demands certain qualifications of its teachers, why not demand the same kind of qualifications of a superintendent, who is to have control of them?

My work as Superintendent of your schools has been very pleasant. I thank the teachers, school committee and people most kindly for their confidence, co-operation and courtesy.

Respectfully submitted,

C. W. PIERCE,

Supt. of Schools.
